Why become a site sponsor?

We need you...

We believe that we are better together. Together, we can empower students, support educators, and improve outcomes. We do this one community at a time.

Many of today’s students face challenges outside of the classroom - poverty, anxiety, trauma - that can make it more difficult for them to succeed inside the classroom. At Communities In Schools (CIS) of Mid-America, we see the potential in every student, and we are committed to helping them see it too.

Through our model of Integrated Student Supports, we partner with state education agencies, school districts, and community-based organizations to coordinate the services and resources needed to ensure that all students - particularly those at-risk of dropping out - can thrive in and beyond the classroom.

We serve kids K-12...

We believe that relationships, not programs, change the trajectory of students’ lives. So, we place a Site Coordinator in the schools we serve to connect students and their families to the community resources they need the most. CIS is committed to doing whatever it takes to keep kids in school.

We work in schools to help students succeed; removing barriers for vulnerable students at risk of dropping out, keeping kids in schools and on the path to graduation, and leveraging evidence, relationships, and local resources to drive results.

“I never gave up hope on him.”
